Gino's Gelato to open in Dundrum Town Centre

Hammerson, on behalf of The Dundrum Partnership ^[1] has announced the opening of Gino's Gelato in Dundrum Town Centre. Famed for its gourmet authentic Italian gelato, the premium ice-cream parlour will also be serving up its signature Belgian waffles and crêpes, enhancing Dundrum's high-quality dining offer.

The new Gino's Gelato will source quality local organic Irish ingredients to be used in its produce with flavours including the best-sellers and multi-award winning pistachio gelato, Kinda Gino Bueno gelato and Gino's Chocolate Oreo crêpe. Founded as a family business in the late 1960s in Italy, Gino's has now become one of Ireland's most popular ice-cream parlours.

Gino's new parlour will open at the end of June 2018 on Dundrum Town Centre's ground floor; the latest in a series of positive food and beverage announcements for Dundrum Town Centre, with food emporium, Fallon & Byrne, also set to open with a new flagship food hall, delicatessen and restaurant. Dundrum already offers customers a large variety of restaurant and dining options that cater for all tastes, including Five Guys, Jamie's Italian, Nando's, Beef'itro, Wagamama, Siam Thai, Mao, The Port House, Chopped, Mooch and P.Mac's.

Simon Betty, Director of Retail for Ireland at Hammerson, said: "Gino's Gelato has been enjoying a period of huge growth in Ireland and its impressive expansion across the country has made the brand a household name. Its quality ice-cream and development of its unique gelato recipes across other product ranges make it a welcome addition to Dundrum Town Centre, once again building upon our existing offering with new and exciting concepts for customers."

News Release

Jonathan Kirwan, Managing Director of Gino's Gelato said: "We are very proud to be opening our 21st Irish outlet in Dundrum. It is such an iconic destination with some of the busiest footfall in Ireland so we are excited at the business opportunity presented by Dundrum Town Centre."
